

2016 (Apple):

Table 6: Lovely complex flavour, exactly as you would expect from a Cox.

Table 99: A good nose of blossom, fresh and well balanced - the whole character of Coxes orange pippin comes through. Clean and pure.

Table 3: A really refreshing juice.

2016 (Rhubarb blend):

Table 4: This beautiful juice is very well balanced. The tartness of the rhubarb comes through against the sweetness of apple very well. A refreshing finish and a great colour. A remarkable juice that has a true, honest flavour.

Table 99: A good little hint of rhubarb on the nose. The immediate flavour is of sweet apple juice, and a good hit of rhubarb to bring along a sharpness. A very good balanced juice with a refreshing and cleansing quality.

Table 6: Good sweet acid balance, rhubarb sits happily behind the apple creating an excellent product. Refreshing, clean, crisp taste with a zing.

Table 2: Lovely hand pressed cloudy appearance. Smells beautifully of apples. Great balance of sour and sweetness. Apple flavour comes through nicely and the rhubarb brings a clean sharpness to counteract the sweetness. The juice leaves the palate feeling cleansed and refreshed. A great example of a classic combination of ingredients.

Table 1: This is delicious and clever with the rhubarb complementing the apples perfectly - rhubarb and apple crumble in a glass!

2015 (Elderflower blend):

"Lovely fresh aroma, good cloudy appearance - lovely apple flavour with just a hint of elderflower. We liked the subtlety of the elderflower which gives it a freshness on the finish. Lovely fruit flavour".

2014 (Apple):

"Lovely nose with a good cloudy appearance. Great fresh taste with a slight acidity at the end. The apple taste comes through in buckets. Very inviting product, great smell of apples. On hitting the palate the viscosity is very good with a beautiful hit of fresh apples; it also has a wonderful hint of pear to it, a great variety of apple in this one. Not overly sweet, pleasantly appealing, gentle acidity and certainly we all liked it"

2013 (Apple):

"excellent - a wonderful, real apple flavour and great balance of fruit and 'peel' edge. This is a delicious, full flavoured, naturally sweet juice, low in acid and high on flavour notes".
